

American Ranch Horse Association Partners with Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company

Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company Named “Official Livestock Equipment Manufacturer and Provider” of American Ranch Horse Association

May 20, 2014 - American Ranch Horse Association (ARHA) is proud to announce a two-year agreement with Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company as a Partner. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company has been chosen to be the Official Livestock Equipment Manufacturer and Provider of the ARHA.

Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company produces a product unlike any other livestock equipment company in the nation. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company manufactures and installs Hot-Dip Galvanized Products. Galvanizing material by hot dipping protects the material from rust both inside and out, which makes it the perfect process for producing livestock equipment. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company specializes in customizing livestock facilities to meet each customer's specific wants and needs. The owners and operators of Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company have more than 75 years combined experience in the designing, manufacturing, and installation of livestock equipment and handling systems. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company has completed numerous facilities for schools, universities, major livestock show organizations, and individuals. In addition to livestock equipment consulting, manufacturing and installation, Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company is an authorized distributor of livestock waterers, feeders, electrical power fence equipment, and security systems. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company is committed to fulfilling the needs of their customers. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company will continue to expand their product line as necessary to adapt to industry changes and to the requirements of their customers. Lonestar Livestock Equipment Company's mission "is to provide superior products, customer service, and satisfaction that meets or exceeds our customers expectations". ARHA is a national association that promotes and values the truly versatile working ranch type horse. ARHA provides a friendly, family oriented environment where ranch horses can compete and exhibit their unique skills and abilities. The ARHA is open to all western stock-quarter type breeds and encourages participation from horses on the ranch, the trail, or in the show ring. ARHA promotes the abilities of the all-around versatile working quarter-type horse through shows, clinics, and sales. The atmosphere is positive and supports honesty, personal growth, and courtesy towards fellow horseman. Horses are always respected and the true western tradition is genuinely honored. When you join the ARHA, you are not only becoming a member of the family of ARHA horse owners, but you join an organization that is dedicated to providing it's members with outstanding services and programs. All ARHA events, programs, and services encourage fun, friendly family oriented competitions at all levels. Members can participate in many fun activities and gain many learning experiences.
